

Faculty Bio

Scott Urquhart, PA-C is a graduate of the George Washington University PA Program. He has been practicing endocrinology since 1996 with Diabetes and Thyroid Associates in Fredericksburg, VA.

He is a founding member and Past President of the American Society of Endocrine Physician Assistants. Scott is an Adjunct Clinical Professor for James Madison University's PA Program and a Clinical Instructor for the George Washington University PA Program. In 2011, after development of the conference in 2010, he launched the United States' first-ever endocrine summit designed for PAs/NPs, called the Metabolic and Endocrine Disease Summit (MEDS).

In 2008, he received the award of Distinguished Fellow of the American Academy of Physician Assistants. He has extensive experience in educational development and has served as a presenter on many endocrine topics at the state and national level. His many publications have appeared in JAAPA, Advance for PAs, and Clinician Reviews, and he also serves on the editorial board for Clinician Reviews.