

Leslie Citrome, MD, MPH, Clinical Professor of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences,
New York Medical College

Dr. Citrome is Clinical Professor of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences at New York Medical College in Valhalla, New York and has a private practice in Pomona, New York. Dr. Citrome's primary research interests have centered on psychopharmacologic approaches to schizophrenia, bipolar disorder and major depressive disorder. He is the author or co-author of over 400 research reports, reviews, chapters and abstracts in the scientific literature, is the Editor-in-Chief for the International Journal of Clinical Practice published by Wiley-Blackwell, serves on the editorial board of 9 other medical journals, reviews for over 50 journals, and has lectured extensively throughout the USA, Canada, Europe, and Asia. He is the author of the book, Handbook of Treatment-Resistant Schizophrenia, published in 2013 by Springer Healthcare.