

Deborah V. Thomas, EdD, APRN, PMHCNS-BC, PMHNP-BC, CMP

Board Certified Master Psychopharmacologist

Child and Adolescent Psychiatric Clinical Nurse Specialist

Psychiatric Nurse Practitioner

Professor and Director of Graduate Psychiatric Nursing Specialty

University of Louisville School of Nursing

Owner

Here and Now Psychiatric Services, Center for Pharmacogenomic Studies, and The Parenting Institute

Louisville, KY

BIO

Deborah V. Thomas, EdD, APRN, PMHCNS-BC, PMHNP-BC, CMP, is a board certified master psychopharmacologist, a child and adolescent psychiatric clinical nurse specialist, and a professor in and director of the Graduate Psychiatric Nursing Specialty at the University of Louisville School of Nursing. Dr. Thomas is also the owner of Here and Now Psychiatric Services, Center for Pharmacogenomic Studies, and The Parenting Institute. She completed her master's degree in psychiatric nursing from Indiana University and her doctorate in education leadership with a minor in ethics from Spalding University.

Dr. Thomas focuses her research on a variety of psychiatric topics. She has been published in multiple publications and serves as an active presenter for several international nursing and medicine conferences. She is an active member in the leadership of the American Psychiatric Nurses Association and International Society of Psychiatric-Mental Health Nurses (ISPN). She presents on a variety of psychiatric and mental health topics annually at the national and/or international level. Dr. Thomas is a manuscript reviewer for the Journal of Psychiatric Nursing. She was awarded the Susan McCabe Lectureship for 2015 by the ISPN Psychopharmacology Institute and the International Psychiatric Educator of the Year for 2012 by ISPN. Dr. Thomas is a recognized professional speaker and leader in cutting-edge psychiatric nursing practice and education.