

Faculty Bio

Robert E. Kalb, MD

Chair, Dermatology Department
Buffalo Medical Group, PC
Clinical Professor of Dermatology
The State University of New York at Buffalo
Jacobs School of Medicine and Biomedical Sciences
Buffalo, New York

Dr. Robert E. Kalb is a Clinical Professor of Dermatology at the State University of New York at Buffalo Jacobs School of Medicine and Biomedical Sciences, where his extensive teaching responsibilities include coordinating the fourth-year medical student dermatology rotation and working with dermatology and family medicine residents on a daily basis. He also chairs the dermatology department in private practice with the Buffalo Medical Group in Buffalo, New York.

Dr. Kalb obtained his medical degree cum laude from Downstate Health Science Center in Brooklyn, New York, in 1982 and then completed his residency in dermatology at the College of Physicians and Surgeons at Columbia University in New York.

Dr. Kalb has conducted numerous clinical trials investigating possible new treatments for psoriasis and other skin disorders. An invited lecturer at local, national, and international meetings, he has authored more than 60 articles in peer-reviewed journals.