

Faculty Bio

Steven D. Nathan, MD, FCCP

Medical Director, Lung Transplant Program
Director, Advanced Lung Disease Program
Inova Fairfax Hospital
Professor of Medicine
Virginia Commonwealth University, Inova Fairfax Campus
Falls Church, VA

Steven D. Nathan, MD, is the Director of the Advanced Lung Disease Program and lung transplant program at Inova Fairfax Hospital in Falls Church, Virginia. He is Professor of medicine at Virginia Commonwealth University, Inova Fairfax Campus. Dr. Nathan received his medical degree in South Africa and performed his internal medicine residency at Long Island Jewish Hospital and fellowships in pulmonary medicine, critical care, and lung transplantation at Cedars-Sinai Medical Center.

Dr. Nathan has authored more than 380 publications as well as two books on idiopathic pulmonary fibrosis. He has served on multiple committees, including FDA advisory boards and steering committees for clinical trials in IPF and pulmonary hypertension. He has delivered talks and been chairperson of numerous sessions at many national and international conferences.