

Dr. Paul Nadler, medical director of the University of California, San Francisco (UCSF) Screening and Acute Care Clinic, has extensive experience in outpatient urgent care. His research focuses on new technologies to increase the quality of urgent care and to improve the management of orthopedic problems in primary care.

Dr. Nadler is board certified in internal medicine and a clinical professor of medicine at UCSF. He earned his medical degree at the State University of New York at Buffalo, School of Medicine and Biomedical Sciences and completed a residency in internal medicine at UC Davis Medical Center.