

Thea Cogan-Drew, MMsc, PA-C

Ms. Cogan-Drew joined Rutgers Physician Assistant Program faculty in October, 2015. She received her Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Vermont in 1991 and a Master of Arts degree in Photography from Ohio University in 1997. After working in the field of graphic design for several years, she made a career change and received her Master of Medical Science degree from Yale University School of Medicine's Physician Associate Program in May 2010, where she later worked as a contributing instructor and clinical preceptor after graduation . Her clinical background was in community health, primary care and urgent care in Connecticut. Ms. Cogan-Drew is pleased to now be pursuing an academic career at Rutgers and continuing to practice clinically in urgent care and to volunteer in free-clinic settings. Additionally, she is the Assistant Editor of A Comprehensive Review for the Certification and Recertification Examinations for Physician Assistants, 6th ed., which is published in collaboration with AAPA and PAEA.