

Faculty Bio

Rochelle Rosian, MD

Staff member

Department of Rheumatic and Immunologic Diseases

Director of Regional Rheumatology

Cleveland Clinic

Solon, OH

Rochelle Rosian, MD, is a Staff member of Cleveland Clinic's Department of Rheumatic and Immunologic Diseases. Serves as Director of Regional Rheumatology. She is board-certified in rheumatology and has a general rheumatology practice, with special interest in rheumatoid arthritis, psoriatic arthritis and lupus. During her career at Cleveland Clinic, Dr. Rosian has been involved institutional committees, fellow/resident education and has participated in Physician Leadership groups, and Center for Excellence in Healthcare communication. Dr. Rosian has been selected by her peers to be listed in America's Best Doctors list for Rheumatology since 2002. Dr. Rosian is actively volunteers with the Arthritis Foundation and several Women's Professional organizations.