

Advancing the Care of Patients with SSc-ILD: Accurate Diagnosis,
Improved Risk Assessment, and Evidence-based Disease Management

Kevin Flaherty, MD, MS
Professor of Internal Medicine
Division of Pulmonary & Critical Care Medicine
University of Michigan
Ann Arbor, Michigan

Kevin R. Flaherty, MD, MS, is a Professor of Medicine in the Division of Pulmonary and Critical Care Medicine, Department of Internal Medicine at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor, Michigan.

Dr. Flaherty is the director of the Interstitial Lung Disease program, serves as Vice-Chair of the Medical School Institutional Review Board for Human Subjects Research and is the steering committee chair for the Pulmonary Fibrosis Foundation's Care Center Network and Patient Registry.

Dr. Flaherty's clinical and research interests center around the diagnosis, monitoring, and care of patients with interstitial lung diseases. He has been and continues to be the principal investigator on numerous grants and clinical trials related to the study and treatment of patients with idiopathic interstitial pneumonias, particularly idiopathic pulmonary fibrosis.