

Ankur Parikh, DO
Medical Director, Precision Medicine
Hematologist/Medical Oncologist
Cancer Treatment Centers of America, Philadelphia, PA

Board certified in medical oncology, hematology and internal medicine, Dr. Parikh earned an osteopathic medical degree from Kirksville College of Osteopathic Medicine in Kirksville, Missouri. He completed an internal medicine residency at Riverside Methodist Hospital in Columbus, Ohio, followed by a hematology-oncology fellowship at the National Heart, Lung, and Blood Institute and National Cancer Institute of the National Institutes of Health in Bethesda, Maryland. Dr. Parikh has served as a principal and associate investigator for clinical research protocols involving targeted therapies, immunotherapies, myelodysplastic syndrome and aplastic anemia. He has also written book chapters on hematology topics and his work has been published in various peer-reviewed journals.