

Faculty Bio

John C. Novak, MS, MD
OhioHealth Neurological Physicians
Director, OhioHealth ALS Clinic
Westerville, OH

Dr. John Novak is a neurologist with OhioHealth in Columbus, Ohio where he serves as the director of the ALS clinic. Prior to this, he attended Kent State University where he earned a Masters in neurobiology then went on to medical school at The Ohio State University. Dr. Novak also completed his residency at Ohio State as well as a fellowship in EMG and neuromuscular disease. He joined OhioHealth in 2009 and has worked there since, starting the ALS clinic in 2012. The clinic is now an ALS Association Certified Treatment Center of Excellence with a focus on providing multidisciplinary care for patients and educating other clinicians on standards of care.