

Faculty Bio

Debbie P. Hagins, MD, FAPCR, AAHIVS (Moderator)

HIV Program Director

Medical Director and Principal Investigator

Coastal Health District's CARE Clinics

Savannah, GA

Debbie P. Hagins, MD, FAPCR, AAHIVS, is the Medical Director and Principal Investigator for Coastal Health District's CARE clinics in Savannah, Georgia, and surrounding counties, and has more than 30 years of experience as a family medicine doctor. Dr. Hagins received her HIV Specialist certification from the American Academy of HIV Medicine and is a Fellow of the Academy of Physicians of Clinical Research, a designation reserved for Academy members who have shown significant commitment to, and achievement in, clinical research. Dr. Hagins graduated from Morehouse School of Medicine and completed her residency at Memorial Health University Medical Center in Savannah, Georgia. She has been recognized as Unstoppable Woman of the Year, received the Georgia State Public Health Primary Care Leadership award, and the Hero in Medicine award. She has been featured in The New York Times, the Wall Street Journal, local papers, and has been a guest on several radio and television outlets. Dr. Hagins has been involved in community health events for more than 30 years, presenting on a range of health topics.