Emergency Medicine Clinical Pharmacy Specialist
Atrium Health Carolinas Medical Center

Jimmy L. Pruitt III, PharmD, BCPS, BCCCP, BCEMP, is originally from Orlando, Florida, and received his Doctor of Pharmacy from Presbyterian College School of Pharmacy in 2017. He completed a PGY-1 pharmacy residency at Florida Hospital Orlando and then went on to Grady Health System in Atlanta, Georgia, for his PGY2 emergency medicine residency. Dr. Pruitt is currently an emergency medicine clinical pharmacy specialist at the Medical University of South Carolina (MUSC) in Charleston, South Carolina. He was awarded Grady Pharmacist of the Year in 2019 as a PGY2 emergency medicine resident, which was a first in the program's 30+ year history. In 2020, he obtained Board-Certified Pharmacotherapy Specialist (BCPS) and Board-Certified Critical Care Pharmacist (BCCCP) recognition. Also, in 2020, he won the Society of Academic Emergency Medicine (SAEM) Got Talent competition for his educational series "Pharmacy Friday Pearls," which was the first time a pharmacist won the event. In 2021, Dr. Pruitt was honored with the Excellence in Diversity award from MUSC College of Pharmacy, was Presbyterian College School of Pharmacy (PCSP) Alumni of the Year, and was keynote speaker for the 2021 PCPS graduation. His professional interests include cardiac arrest, shock syndromes, trauma, and hosting his podcast Pharm So Hard. Dr. Pruitt obtained board certification in emergency medicine in May 2023.
