Attaya Suvannasankha, MD

Associate Professor of Clinical Medicine
Indiana University School of Medicine

Attaya Suvannasankha, MD is a hematologist-oncologist and associate professor of clinical medicine at Indiana University School of Medicine, as well as a physician-scientist at the Indiana University Melvin and Bren Simon Comprehensive Cancer Center. Nationally recognized as an expert for moving research from the bench to the bedside, she serves as co-chair of the myeloma working group of the Big Ten Cancer Research Consortium. Since her appointment at Indiana University in 2003, Dr. Suvannasankha has worked to develop an interdisciplinary team of clinicians and researchers to bring the best care to patients with multiple myeloma (MM) through translational research. She has led multiple trials of new agents and combinations with a focus on novel immunotherapy.
