Faculty Bio

Sanjay Sharma, MD
Hematologist-Oncologist
Providence St. Jude
Fullerton, CA

Dr. Sanjay Sharma is a multifaceted individual with a diverse background. As a practicing physician specializing in hematology and oncology, he possesses a unique perspective, shaped by firsthand experience. Before his medical journey, Dr. Sharma honed his skills as an epidemiologist, focusing on public health.

He completed medical school at the prestigious Medical College of Virginia in 1999 and pursued further training at Washington University in St. Louis and Mount Sinai in NYC. Driven by a passion for education, he founded an oncology medical education company, sharing cutting-edge treatment opportunities with countless oncologists. Dr. Sharma also is the co-founder of Titan3Capital which has a vision to create value for investors, operators and families in delivering the future of community living. Additionally, he is a sought-after national public speaker, captivating audiences with his expertise.